MONTH OF SEPTEMBER

A7 GRADE - 2

ALL ABOUT A7

We also had the 'What I Want to Be?' activity for our learning fair brainstorming session. I am very surprised by their dreams in life and excited to be part of that journey as their teacher.

IMPORTANT DATES

October 14 Sports Day

ACHIEVEMENT

We make the month of September productive and full of learning both academics and active learning.

RESPECT FOR THE AGED DAY

This month, the kids prepared a message card for their grandparents. The essence of this activity is to give honor and respect to elders. The kids had a one-day holiday to celebrate this or visit their grandparents.

OUR BOOKS

For our books, we focus on those related to our academics, especially the solar system. They are a great help for our upcoming learning fair to fully understand the importance of the lesson and the Earth as our home. I would love to share with the students the significance of taking good care of our nature and preparing for a better future.

OUR CHANTS

Our chants focus more on practicing social skills and ESL. "It's a Small World After All" is our best choice to sing this month, and it also provides the first total physical response while singing. These chants promote values of knowledge, unity in the world, and the joy of being a kid.

OUR ACADEMICS

We had a wonderful lesson in all academic subjects, such as science, body parts, the solar system, and weather. In Language Arts, we covered parts of speech: noun, verb, and pronoun. In math, we worked on missing numbers for addition and subtraction problem-solving. We also practiced our reading skills and vocabulary this month. In other subjects, they had an amazing time learning how to play the ukulele, engaging in arts and singing, and studying social studies. These are the amazing learning experiences they will continue to have in the next months. I am grateful that they are learning so fast, and I will ensure the quality of education for all of them.
